Posting a Study

Before uploading any Study you shall use the study cost calculator (available on the Website) to determine the Study Cost and, using your credit or debit card (or that of your institution, in which case you warrant that you are authorised to use such card), shall pay the Study Cost to your account on the Website. You will not be permitted to post any Study unless your account is in funds sufficient to cover the Study Cost.

Once your account is in funds you shall enter all the information relevant to your Study (such as the name of Study and the number of participants required). You may also enter pre-screening criteria so that only Participants with certain demographic characteristics can participate in the Study. All pre-screening information is based on Participants' self-reporting. We do not warrant the accuracy of any pre-screening information and are under no obligation to verify pre-screening information.

Once you have submitted your Study to the Website you will not be permitted to withdraw the Study Cost from your account while the Study is active. If your Study is withdrawn or closed (for instance, due to a lack of or a reduced number of Participants) then, provided that sufficient funds remain in your account to pay Rewards to all Participants, you may withdraw any remainder.

You warrant and undertake that:

- you own or are licensed to use all intellectual property rights in the Study materials, and have all necessary rights, licenses and permissions to conduct the Study using the Service;
- you will, in relation to the personal information of any Participants, comply with your obligations set out under “Privacy” below;
- you have obtained written approval for your Study from the relevant ethics committee of your academic institution;
- you will make clear to each Participant the purposes of the Study, the intended publications of any results of the Study, and any additional terms and conditions which must be accepted by the Participant in order to take part in the Study; and
- you will ensure that your Study asks Participants for their ID numbers (as assigned by us when they register for the Website) and provides Participants with a study code by which the Study can be identified.

Submissions and Payments of Rewards

Submissions to Studies are not moderated by us and we are under no obligation to oversee, monitor or moderate Submissions.

It is your responsibility to check that Submissions meet the specific requirements of your Study once submitted by a Participant.

You shall review each Participant’s Submission within a reasonable period following its submission and either approve or reject it. Approved Submissions shall automatically receive a Reward, transferred by us from your account with us to the Participant’s nominated account. When we transfer any Reward from your account we will retain the Commission.

If a Submission is not reviewed within twenty-one (21) days after its submission, you will lose the right to reject it and the Participant will be allocated the Reward automatically.

You may reject Submissions if they do not meet the requirements of your Study (for example, if the Submission was wrong, the Study was not completed correctly or the instructions were not followed). Rejected Submissions shall not entitle the Participant to receive a Reward. If you decide to reject someone’s work, you will be prompted to give a reason for the rejection.

You must act reasonably in rejecting Submissions. If you reject more than a reasonable proportion of the Submissions made to any particular Study (such proportion to be determined by us in our absolute discretion), or if we otherwise have reason to believe that you are improperly exercising your right to reject Submissions, we reserve the right to take any or all of the following actions:

- to suspend your use of our Service pending investigation;
- to terminate your use of our Service; and
- to allocate Rewards to any and all Participants in any Study in relation to which we believe you have improperly exercised your rights of rejection, regardless of whether or not those Participants’ Submissions have been accepted or rejected by you.

You may withdraw Studies at any time. However, if you do so, any Participants who has submitted a Submission will still be entitled to a Reward and we will still pay that Reward to them.

If you reject any Submissions then spaces on the Study will automatically re-open to allow new Participants to replace those whose Submissions were rejected, unless the Study has been withdrawn.

We will take payment of Study Costs from you, and make payment of Rewards, through our payment processing service providers Stripe Payments Europe, Ltd and PayPal, Inc. The collection and processing by these providers of your credit or debit card details and other personal data are governed by their respective terms and conditions. See <https://www.paypal.com/uk/webapps/mpp/ua/privacy-full> and <https://stripe.com/gb/privacy> for more information. We do not obtain or process your credit or debit card details.

All payments pursuant to these Terms of Service, including the Study Costs, are in GBP Sterling and stated inclusive of VAT unless stated otherwise.

Any funds in your account following the completion or withdrawal of a Study which have not been allocated as Rewards may be applied by you towards further Study Costs or may be returned to you upon your request.

Intellectual Property

All intellectual property rights in Submissions are owned by the relevant Participants unless otherwise agreed between you and the Participants. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have obtained any necessary permission, licence or consent to your intended use of those Submissions or an assignment of any relevant intellectual property rights.

Privacy

Any personal data provided to us by you will be used only for the purpose of providing the Service and strictly in accordance with our Privacy and Cookie Policy <https://prolific.ac/privacy>.
